

I want to keep the current ban on in-flight cellphone use. With the seats crowded together as they are on most flights, it would be very annoying to have many passengers talking continuously. As long as the cell phones are banned, a passenger has a chance of sleeping or reading. If they are allowed, I can't get away from them. Please let us keep what little space we now have.